

CARON WILL SERVE PENAL FARM TERM

Pleads Guilty To Charge Of Unlawfully Transporting Liquor And Is Sentenced

ALSO FINED $100 AND COSTS

James Cranley, His Companion, To Go On Trial Later—Decisions In Other Cases

Lester Caron, who was scheduled to go on trial Monday in the circuit court on a charge of unlawfully transporting liquor, has entered a plea of guilty to the charge, and was given a fine of $100 and costs and a six months sentence by Judge Sparks.

The defendant will be taken to the State Penal farm Monday by Sheriff Hunt, where he will begin serving his sentence.

James Cranley, companion of the defendant, also faces a similar charge, and his case has not been set for trial. It will be recalled that the two young men were charged with bringing a machine load of liquor into the city several weeks ago, and Cranley was arrested in the machine, and it is understood that he made a confession implicating Caron.

In the case of the Peoples National bank against Russell Coons et al., a complaint on a note, the evidence was heard this morning, and the defendants defaulted, which resulted in the court awarding the plaintiff $488.39 judgment.

Judge Sparks also this morning refused a new trial in the case of Harold Reeves against Joe Clark, in which the plaintiff was awarded $53.35 and costs judgment, and to which the defendant filed a motion for another trial. The motion and arguments for a new trial were filed in July, and the decision rendered today.

The evidence in the case of David E. Teal against Regina Brummer, which was heard several days ago, and taken under advisement, was decided in court this morning by Judge Sparks, who awarded the plaintiff $85 and costs as judgment.

The complaint was on a mechanics lien, and involved the painting of a dwelling house, which was alleged to have been performed unsatisfactorily.

RUSHVILLE MAN HAS INSIDE TRACK

Supporters Of Sam L. Trabue Hopeful Of His Election As K. of P. Grand Outer Guard

CONVENTION OPENS MONDAY

Members of the Knights of Pythias lodge are preparing to attend the annual convention of the Indiana domain of the order in Indianapolis next week. More than ordinary interest centers in the annual convention in Rush county, this year because Samuel L. Trabue of this city is believed to have the inside track for the office of grand outer guard, which is the stepping stone to the highest office of Pythianism in Indiana.

Mr. Trabue was defeated by the narrow margin of one vote last year, which gives him the preferred position this year, and there is little doubt in the minds of Rushville and Milroy Knights of Pythias but that Mr. Trabue will be the choice of the convention. Aside from the grand trustees, the outer guard is the only elective office, because beginning with this office, the grand officers advance one step higher each year until they become grand chancellor.

Rushville and Milroy lodges will have large delegations on hand to advance Mr. Trabue's interest. The Rushville man is opposed by Othaniel Hitch of Indianapolis, but on account of having been so close to the coveted honor last year, is expected to be the choice of the convention this year.

HUNTS WITHOUT PERMISSION

John Davis, living in northern Rush county, near Knightstown, was fined $10 and costs by J. P. Stech, justice of the peace, this morning for violation of the game laws. He was arrested by a game warden on a charge of hunting without permission and the fine and costs amounted to $22.75.

LAST TEACHERS' TEST HELD

Hereafter Licenses Will Be Based On Training Received

The last teachers' examination that will ever be held in Rush county, so long as the present law is in force, took place in the teachers' examination room in the court house today, and many teachers took advantage of the opportunity.

According to the terms of the new statute, teachers will be awarded licenses on the amount of training they have received for their chosen work. In the past the term of a teacher's license has depended upon grades made in examinations, but from now on they will be based on the work that teachers have done in normal schools and colleges.

EIGHTEEN DEAD AND 3 MISSING

Violent Wind And Rain Storm Takes Toll In Nebraska And Iowa During Night

EIGHT KILLED IN ONE HOUSE

C. B. & Q. Officials Expect to be Able to Clear up Casper, Wyo., Wreckage Today

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 29—Eighteen persons are dead, three missing and a score injured as the result of a violent wind and rain storm which swept Nebraska and Iowa during the night.

Twelve persons, eight of whom were gathered in one house to mourn the death of Mrs. Mary McCarver, whose funeral services were concluded yesterday were killed at Louisville, Neb.

Five persons, including a mother and three small sons, were killed at Council Bluffs, Ia.

Dr. A. A. Ward, of Marquette, Neb., was found buried under his overturned car at Grand Island.

Three persons are missing at Council Bluffs, including Clarence Dalton, a dairy man, an unknown man reported to have walked into a manhole and a railroad worker at the Wabash roundhouse which was partially destroyed.

Casper, Wyo., Sept. 29—Additional wrecking equipment arrived today at Lockett, 14 miles east of here, where passenger train No. 30 on the C. B. & Q. railroad went through a bridge Thursday night and railroad officials expected to be able to clear out most of the wreckage during the day. Twenty missing passengers are believed buried in the wreckage in Cole creek.

Three bodies recovered from the mass of twisted steel in the swirling waters have been brought to Casper.

Continual rains have been falling at the headwaters of the little mountain stream resulting in the creek bed, which is usually dry, retaining the proportions of a torrent and preventing rescue work.

Rain which has been falling here for two days, ceased early this morning and the additional wrecking crews equipped with heavy lifting machinery left here at dawn for the scene. The storm had forced workers to stop their efforts to clear up the wreck during the night.

JAPANESE CITIES SHAKEN

Those Which Escaped Destruction Sept. 1 Feel Earth Tremors

Pekin, Sept. 29—Osaka and Kobe leading cities of Japan which escaped destruction in the quakes of September 1, were shaken today by tremors of moderate intensity. The new shocks caused no damage and were not felt in other cities.

The tremendous earthquakes which destroyed Tokio and Yokohama this month, drove thousands of refugees to Kobe and Osaka and the latter cities have taken over much of the economic and official life of the devastated capital and its port city.

Pekin Sept. 29—Heavy and damaging earthquakes shook the district around Kerman, in Persia, according to advices from Teheran today, which gave no details.

BOYHOOD HEROES

LACKED EVIDENCE, HEADLEE IS FREED

Judge Hines Instructs Jury To Acquit Gowdy Garage Owner, Charged With Liquor Violation

CASE IS ENDED SUDDENLY

Prosecution Is Again Fronted With Serious Status Of Indiana's Poor Liquor Law

The liquor law violation case against Sylvia Headlee, garage owner of Gowdy, was suddenly terminated late Friday, when Judge Fred Hines of Noblesville, special judge in the case, sustained a motion filed by A. C. Stevens, attorney for the defense, in which the defendant maintained that the state had not produced evidence sufficient to warrant conviction.

Judge Hines then instructed the jury to retire to their room, and return a verdict for the defense, and explained that the state did not have enough evidence.

The jury was out long enough to elect a foreman and cast a ballot, and they then returned the verdict of not guilty.

Judge Hines instructed Sheriff Hunt to destroy the evidence, "forthwith," and the contents of a quart bottle of moonshine went gurgling down the sewer. A few drops were poured on the floor, and a match was applied, showing that the corn liquor is highly inflammable.

Prosecutor Ketchum is no way responsible for the failure of the suit to materialize, as the case again shows the condition that the liquor law is in, and such conditions will have to stand until the legislature can pass a new law.

The evidence introduced at the trial did not prove a sale of liquor, nor was there sufficient evidence to show that the garage was a nuisance. There was no evidence to show transportation of liquor.

Several of the witnesses for the state testified that the garage was frequented by many people during the winter and spring months, but it was also brought out by these witnesses that the garage was the common loafing place in Gowdy, and that the store did not have a stove around which loafers could assemble.

The witnesses themselves also admitted that they had been among the loafers at the garage at some time or other.

NEW RECORD OF ATTENDANCE

Purdue Enrollment Expected To Set High Mark This Year

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 29.—A new record for attendance will be established at Purdue University before the close of enrollment, according to a statement given out today by President E. C. Elliott. The total enrollment now is 2823. Final enrollment last year was 2858.

This new record will be in spite of a slump in enrollment in the schools of agriculture, mechanical engineering, and science.

The freshman engineering class is the largest in the history of the University, numbering 574 as compared to 541 last year.

The freshman agricultural class lost 59, which is attributed to hard times among the farmers.

LOCAL STOCKHOLDERS PROFIT BY DECISION

Indianapolis Judge Decides For Plaintiff in Automatic Train Control Case

J. W. ARBUCKLE FILED SUIT

Word has been received here of a court decision handed down by Judge Moll, Superior court room 5, Indianapolis, in the case of Arbuckle vs. the Automatic Train Control Company, in which many Rushville and Rush county persons are interested as stockholders. The suit was filed by J. W. Arbuckle of Homer in order to protect stockholders from being defrauded, and the decision was rendered in favor of Mr. Arbuckle's petition.

By the terms of the decision, the company's device is placed in the hands of some of the following men and concerns, Mr. Arbuckle of Homer, Clawson, Briscoe and Baldwin of Indianapolis, Golden of Columbus and Latz of Seymour.

Of the many devices that have been proposed for automatic train control, the Stiegelmeier device is said to be in a class by itself, according to the testimony of numerous railroad officials and mechanical engineers. One division each of 51 of the principal railroads in the United States must be equipped with automatic controls by January 1, 1925, according to the ruling of the interstate commerce commission, which has jurisdiction in the matter.

The litigation involved a question in royalties, between the inventor Stiegelmeier, and the promoters.

TAX BURDEN HAS BEEN LIGHTENED

Caused By Lower Rates Fixed By New Revenue Law, According To Report Of M. Burt Thurman

REDUCTION OF $7,000,000

Record Breaking Prosperity Of Year Had Its Effect In Keeping Up The Collections

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 29.—The lightening of the federal tax burden in Indiana by more than $7,000,000 in the last year because of the lower rates fixed by the new revenue law is shown by the annual report of M. Burt Thurman collector from Ind., sent to Treasury officials. Collections for the fiscal year ended last June 30 were $45,752,721 as compared with $53,032,399 the year before.

For the country as a whole, the tax reduction amounted to $575,705,855, according to the announcement at Washington of Commissioner Blair. With this decrease, federal taxes were cut to almost half the collections made in 1921, the last year under the law enacted by the Democratic congress. The year 1923 was the first full year of tax collections with all the reductions of the present Republican law in force and under it the collections were $2,621,745,227, a reduction of $2,000,000,000 over 1921.

The lower rates on income, especially the smaller taxpayers, were largely responsible for the reduction. This is proved by the Indiana figures showing collections of $25,040,000 this year, compared with $49,809,500 in 1921. The beginning in sealing down these taxes started with the enactment of the Republican law and had its effect last year when the collections were $30,715,000 or almost $20,000,000 less than under the Democratic revenue law.

The record breaking prosperity of this year had its effect in keeping up the collections as shown by the large amount of profit taxes despite the lower rates placed on manufactured goods by the new law. As indicative of this prosperity, collections for the entire country in June were $633,656,000 against $465,699,000 for June last year.

COACHES WILL ORGANIZE

To Perfect Plans For Basketball Team This Afternoon

The high school coaches of the county schools are scheduled for a meeting this afternoon with B. D. Farthing, county school superintendent, at which time the basketball team composed of the coaches will be organized.

At a meeting of the school principals this week, it was decided to perfect an organization of coaches, who will play independent basketball on off-nights during the winter months. John Koch of Manilla has been chosen manager of the team, and Vernal Klipsch of Webb is to act as coach for the team. A strong aggregation of college stars will represent the county in the team.

FORMAL SURRENDER SET FOR NEXT WEEK

French Troops Will Be Increased Upon Receipt Of Word Passive Resistance Has Ended

FEAR INTERNAL DISORDER

By LLOYD ALLEN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
London, Sept. 29.—Germany will give formal notice of her surrender to France early next week.

Contrary to expectations, however, French troops in the Ruhr will be increased upon receipt of official advice that passive resistance has ended.

Germany's internal situation, it is felt here and in Paris, will become critical immediately the order to resume work is given. The occupational forces will take no chances by premature withdrawal but will be pushed up to the border lines between occupied and unoccupied Germany, ready for any emergency.

When the internal situation clears, a gesture of reducing the stringency of the occupation is in order from France.

This is understood to be the semi-official British view of opinion, based on intimation from Paris.

An interallied conference will follow.

WOUNDED MAN IS SOUGHT BY POLICE

One of Party of Four Masked Men Who Threatened to Kill Woman is Shot

WANTED HER TO TESTIFY

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 29.—A wounded man, one of a masked party of four who threatened to kill Mrs. E. J. Benjamin, wife of a Coulterville, Ill., rural mail carrier last Monday morning, unless she refused to testify in an alienation suit in circuit court at Chester, Ill., was sought by police in St. Louis hospitals today.

Mrs. Benjamin, seeing the four men adjusting masks as they left an automobile to enter her house, grabbed a gun.

The masked quartet knocked on the door. She opened it and the leader asked if she intended to testify for the defense in the $10,000 alienation suit of Henry Gressing, St. Louis, against L. B. Jones, retired mine operator.

"I'll tell the truth," she replied. "You won't go on the witness stand. We're Ku Kluxers from town and we'll kill you first," the leader said.

Mrs. Benjamin shot. The speaker fell. She slammed the door, and two of the masked men carried the speaker to the car.

R. H. S. STUDENTS

ATTEND BANQUET

Local High School Represented At Meeting Of Indiana High School Press Association

SENATOR WATSON A SPEAKER

Well Known Newspaper Men Give Embryo Editors Value Of Their Experience In Addresses

The Rushville high school was represented by a delegation of students at the Indiana High School Press association banquet held at Franklin, Friday night, which was addressed by Senator James E. Watson of this city, Lee White of the Detroit News and Fred Shortemore of Indianapolis, secretary of the Indiana Republican state central committee. Sessions were also held in the afternoon at which many Indiana newspaper men spoke, giving the embryo editors the value of their experience.

"The world has been inclined to make its judgment of the newspaper press on the basis of criticism from such sensational writers and confused witnesses as Upton Sinclair," declared Lee White. "It seems that while those criticisms must be taken into account the truer judgment of the motives, the character and the influence of the press is based upon other evidence. That other evidence is the tremendous interest the young men and women of our high schools and colleges are showing in journalism. This interest is being manifested not only by those who contemplate pursuit of journalism as a profession, but by those whose sympathy share, with us of the craft a passion for the discovery and the dissemination of the truth. All of this enthusiasm of young students must mean a great stimulus to the newspaper men and women because it means a more discriminating reading public is in training and presages a press as much better than today's as today's is better than yesterday's."

Declaring that newspaper work is a stepping stone to the individual, Earl Muhlitz of The Indianapolis Star delivered a speech full of sound journalistic advice to the editors at the group conference this afternoon. Lot Lee of the Indianapolis News spoke on staff organization and K. B. Bower of the Art Craft Guild on the value of comics. In his speech Muhlitz brought out the difference between the journalism of yesterday and today. He gave many tips to the embryo writers about the organization of a story and the preparation of copy.

"Let us hope that the time will come when an editorial staff of a student publication will receive honor comparable to that given to athletics," said Dr. H. N. Sherwood in addressing the opening session.

"The regular high school curriculum is all right, but to the student it comes from above. It is prescribed. No student helped plan it. From the very start he rebels. It is a passive resistance, however, and the strength that would go into open rebellion is directed to some form of student activity. It may be athletics; it may be public speaking or debate; it may be school publications. But it is extra-curricular," declared the well-known educator.

"I am for high school publications because they furnish an opportunity for youth to learn the art of meeting responsibility; they the a powerful agent in bringing all the forces of the school and community together for united action; they make a permanent record of the school; but most because of connection with them tends to create men of worthy ideals. At first thought it would appear that work on a school paper primarily prepared one for a vocation, that of a journalist, but I think it is a kind of education that creates men who will devote themselves to the service of their community."

METAL BEING SPREAD ON INDIANA STATE HIGHWAYS

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 29. — Opening of traffic of a section of new pavement north of Scottsburg on State Road 1; establishment of additional short detours, most of which present fair roadbed to motorists and the construction of culverts, spreading of considerable metal and repair of bridges, marked the principal changes in state highway work of special interest to the traveling public for the week of Sept. 30-October 6, John R. Williams, director of the state highway department says in the commission's weekly traffic bulletin on condition of state roads, issued today.

Attention is called that traffic may now proceed over new construction south of Logansport on No. 15 and that the commission is speeding up work on a section between Laporte and Michigan City in order to provide an outlet for traffic in the next few days. DAIRY PRODUCTS—While butter markets were steady at the close today, toward the middle of the week sharp breaks in prices occurred. Demand had been good, and production is apparently falling off, but with considerable butter being drawn from storage, dealers have lost confidence in the markets, at the high prices which have ruled. Closing prices 92 score butter: N. Y. 46c; Chicago 44, Phila. 47c; Boston 46 1/2c.

Cheese markets firm at prices about 1c higher than a week ago. Demand somewhat dull as result of the advance, but up to the time these occurred it was good, even including some speculative buying. Heaviest trading took place at distributing markets, with business at country points a little quiet. Closing prices at Wisconsin primary cheese markets Sept. 27: Twins 25 1/2c; single daisies 26 1/2c; Longhorns 26 1/2c; square prints 27 1/2c; double daisies 26c; young Americas 26 1/2c.

PURDUE SWINE DAY SHOWS HOG LITTERS

Fifteen Different Lots Raised By State University Are Feature Of The Program

SEVERAL TALKS ARE GIVEN

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 29. —"Bigger and better hogs" was the slogan of the Purdue Swine Day which was held here today under the direction of the Purdue University Experiment station.

Gilbert Busler, Chicago specialist on livestock markets, spoke on the general agricultural situation and the hog market prospects. James R. Wiley, state leader of the Hoosier Ton Litter club, gave a short talk.

Fifteen different lots of hogs raised by the experiment station were on exhibition in the judging pavilion. Each lot has been fed a different ration during the summer, but otherwise the conditions under which they were raised were the same.

The difference in the development of the hogs showed the value of the different kinds of feed.

AMUSEMENTS

Western At The Mystic

Pete Morrison will be seen today at the Mystic in "Western Blood," a thrilling picture of western life.

The episode in which he gallops madly in pursuit of the creature, who in order to appease his selfish ends, would have deprived the widowed mother and her daughter of their only possible means of support, and lassoes him off his horse while going at terrific speed in flight to Mexico, and brings him headlong to the ground, there to engage in one of those fights in which the contestants seem to lose all control that civilization has instilled into them, and become like raving creatures of the forest, bent on crushing the opponent until he lies broken at his feet. This is merely one of the thrilling instances that appear in "Western Blood," and you will be missing one of the best Pete Morrison features if you fail to see this unusual picture of the great southwest.

Forest Fire At Princess

"The thrill that comes once in a lifetime" was experienced by Marguerite de la Motte, Lloyd Hughes and Frank Keenan in the filming of the great forest fire scene in Thomas H. Ince's latest premier production, "Scars of Jealousy."

While filming the forest fire scenes of this picture the three famous screen stars found themselves nearly surrounded by flames, and made their escape only with the greatest difficulty.

Work on the picture had been suspended for months while Mr. Ince waited for news that a forest fire such as he wanted to film had broken out in northern California. When word was flashed to his studio that a forest ranger was preparing to clear out a timber tract in northern California he summoned his company and with his directors and camera men rushed to the scene, where the principals of the cast staged the thrilling climax of the play.

Suddenly the wind veered and the flames, eating their way through the branches overhead, jumped the distance of a city block. Another shift in the wind and a blazing sheet of fire circled back to entrap the actors. Experienced woodsmen warned the company of its imminent danger and helped them to escape. Five minutes later the "location" on which the company had been working was a roaring inferno. They had escaped none too soon.

"Scars of Jealousy," in which the thrilling forest fire scenes are depicted, is showing at the Princess theatre today.

THE ONLY HELP:—For I, the Lord thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not; I will help thee.—Isaiah 41: 13.

Farm Relief

Some members of congress are trying to "out-radical" each other in their wild striving for the farmer vote. They think the farmer is in trouble due to the comparative low value of his products and they evidently imagine that the one who happens onto a solution will advance his political interests. Some of these so-called liberals may be honest and sincere, but some of the "cures" they have proposed will lead thinking people to question their motives.

The latest fool idea is "subsidizing" the farmer. The day before it was revival of the federal grain corporation so that the price of wheat might be fixed at some place near $1.75 cents a bushel. In some quarters it was suggested that the interstate commerce commission reduce freight rates on all products of the farm and that freight rates be reduced on wheat and flour designated for export, and that the loss which the railroads would sustain through such reduction be made up by increasing rates on other commodities.

Of course, the farmer does not want to be "subsidized", that is if he is a farmer who looks into the future, because he must know that other business men are well organized and that no sooner than the farmers had completed a raid on the public treasury, they would have their forces ready for the subsidizing of their business. The conclusion is plain. Government of the representative sort would end.

Fixing the price of wheat would be equally as dangerous, because it would open the way for the regulation of the price of all commodities, which is entirely foreign to the American form of government, and our ideas of personal rights guaranteed under the constitution.

The suggestion that freight rates on wheat and flour for export be reduced and the loss to the railroads be made up by increasing the rates on other commodities would be class legislation, and in any event would not benefit the farmer to any great extent. While he might make more on his wheat, he would have to pay the increased freight rate on other things, which fact would come home to him when he went into the market to buy.

The theorists who have been agonizing over the plight of the farmer have been explaining for some time that the difficulty would be overcome if we could find a greater foreign market. If we would but understand that only five percent of the products of the farm are exported, and that the other ninety-five percent is consumed in the United States, those who are misled by such idle talk would turn a deaf ear to it.

The purpose of honest friends of the farmer should be to build up the home market, because that is where ninety-five percent of the buyers of his product are to be found. What chance has he of improving his condition by devoting his time with the minor five percent to the neglect of the major ninety-five percent.

The home market is improved and has greater buying power when those who use the products of the farm are employed and are happy and prosperous. Therefore, the legislator who devotes his attention to protecting the interests of those who consume the farmers' produce, is the farmers' true friend. The congressman or senator who believes that the laboring man should be protected against the competition of cheaply manufactured goods from abroad has at heart the interests of the laboring man as well as the farmer. If the laboring man is not employed, certainly he can not buy the products that originate on the farm.

The free traders are still mocking the framers of the present protective tariff because the price of wheat has been so low, but the fact of the matter is that the law of supply and demand has figured largely in the present situation, due to the abundant crops of grain abroad as well as in the United States. Even so, Canada, wheat is selling for several cents under the price received by American farmers, and thanks to the tariff on wheat, the farmers do not have to meet the competition of Canadian grain.

New Use Is Found For Monument In Indianapolis

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 29.—A new use has been found for the Soldiers' and Sailors' monument and not exactly the use for which it was intended when the citizens of the state erected the monument in honor of their soldier dead.

It is being used to aid in reducing fat.

A traveling man who visited in Indianapolis almost despairing of finding him of surplus pounds of flesh, conceived the idea of walking up and down the thirty two flights of steps at the monument once every day.

Puffing and panting the man went through the exercise conscientiously every day. At the end of the week he beamed all over and told W. E. Shilling, cashier at the monument, that he was losing weight.

Shilling says he thinks others are using the same method.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From The Daily Republican:
Wednesday, Sept. 30, 1908

J. L. Cowing attended a meeting of the board of trustees of the East Haven Insane asylum which was held at Governor Hanly's office in Indianapolis yesterday.

The Milroy saw mill owned by Ollie Richey was completely destroyed by fire last midnight. The mill just started up yesterday and it is thought the mill caught from the engine in some way. When discovered the fire had destroyed almost one end of the mill near the boiler room.

Mrs. John Petty, who formerly lived in North Sexton street, and Mrs. N. G. Wills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Clark of North Main street, were both in a peculiar accident at Connersville late yesterday afternoon. Shortly after four o'clock an L. & C. car struck a buggy occupied by Mrs. Petty. The conductor and motorman left the car to care for the injured woman and because of the down grade of the track at that place the car started and without conductor or motorman ran to the terminal station where it crashed into a freight car. Mrs. N. G. Wills and little baby were the only occupants of the car. Mrs. Wills with her baby in her arms jumped before the passenger ran into the freight car, and escaped injury.

What might have been a serious fire was narrowly averted last night. An overheated stove in the postoffice was discovered about midnight. Clarence Cross clerk, was notified, and he put out the fire.

Walter Thomas came Sunday from Colon, Panama and arrived in time to celebrate his birthday with a dinner at the home of his father, J. Q. Thomas, in Brookside. He visited his uncle, George W. Thomas, in North Perkins street this week, and will leave the latter part of the week for a visit with relatives in Wabash.

Dr. Frank Green and Dr. W. S. Coleman went to Indianapolis today in Dr. Coleman's car.

Owens Bush, playing with Detroit yesterday, in two games had fourteen chances, accepted thirteen of them, got two hits and two runs.

Col. "Jim" Worth passed through the city yesterday morning from Andersonville enroute to his home in Joplin, Mo. He was attired in a seersucker suit and straw hat and from all appearance had forgotten to read the weather report.

A movement is on foot to hold a horse show here sometime during the latter part of October, probably about the 19th or 21st. A meeting of those interested was held at the court house last night and a committee appointed to secure facts as to the financial support the show could get. On this committee were named Will Bliss, Ad Denning, P. A. Miller, Sherman Oneal, George Weeks and A. L. Riggs.

BLACKMAIL ALLEGED

Los Angeles, Calif., Sept. 29.—The district attorneys office today investigated what is believed to be a plot to blackmail a number of movie stars, including Marshall Neilan and Gloria Swanson.

While no names involved were made public, District Attorney Asa Keys admitted that such a probe was under way. It is said to have been the result of complaints made by Marshall Neilan and Mrs. Adeline L. Burns, mother of Gloria Swanson, that a former employee of Mrs. Burns had tried to extort money from Gloria and from Neilan on the threat to make public charges that they were intimate and had also demanded that Neilan give him a large salary job in pictures.

"WORSE THAN PAIN"

Louisiana Lady Says She Has "Newer Found Anything Better Than Cardui for a Run-Down Condition."

Morgan City, La.—"It would be hard for me to tell how much benefit I have derived from the use of Cardui," said Mrs. I. G. Bowman, of 1319 Front Street, this city.

"I was so run-down in health I could hardly go. I was thin. I had no appetite. Could not rest or sleep well. I was so weak, and so very nervous, I was no pleasure to myself.

"I suffered some pain, but the worst of my trouble was from being so weak and easy to get tired and out of heart. "This nervous condition was worse than pain.

"Some one told me of Cardui, and I decided to use it.

"After using a few bottles, I regained my strength. I wasn't so nervous, and began to eat and sleep, and grew stronger and was soon well.

"I have never found anything better for a run-down condition."

Safety Sam's Sermonette

I reckon nothin' ever invented by man has been copied an' imitated with anywhere near th' amount o' success as th' automobile; bein' made o' sheet metal, bent into all sorts o' fantastic shapes t' make it pleasin' th' eyes o' th' suckers, it was only natural that after seein' one or two, somebody'd think right off that he could make a first class imitation out o' waste tin, cut out o' empty t'mato cans an' garbage pails that'd seen their best days.

Seems like it's just naturally in most people t' try t' imitate; mebbe, if Bill Bryan's wrong, we get it from our forefathers who swung from cocconut trees by their tails, imitin' a snake an' a squirrel at th' same time, all th' time puttin' out a line o' chatter that's imitated t' this very day, any time the sewing circle meets or th' gang at th' cigar store starts analyzin' th' baseball dope. C'nsiderin' this streak in human nature, it aint in th' least s'prisin' that as soon as somethin' had been invented that could travel faster'n th' ol' fam'ly nag, some bird 'd try t' imitate a cannon: ball with it. Th' competition in this line, while it was limited for quite a spell, has by virtue o' th' imitative activities of a certain gent in producin' imitations o' th' real article in automobiles in unlimited numbers, b'come about as unlimited as them. In their frenzied efforts t' do a first class imitation o' daredevilry, what they actully imitate is th' bird who imagines he's Napoleon Bonypart, t' th' part o' th' Headless Horseman; men in uniforms, with sawed-off shotguns, lassoes an' tear bombs now 'n then go out huntin' for th' real article after he's escaped from th' padded cell house—an' it's a wonder they don't capture these imitations, thinkin' they're th' real article!

AIR PILOTS READY FOR RACES OCT. 1

New Records in Aviation Are Expected to be Established in International Race at St. Louis

MANY EUROPEAN ENTRIES

Air Board Officials Promoting the Race Making Preparation to Handle 200,000 Spectators

By HERBERT LITTLE

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 29—The fastest, the highest, the biggest, and smallest flying machines will assemble at St. Louis flying field here October 1 for the international air races, seven speed classics that are expected to establish new records in aviation.

Several European entries, including Brack-Papa, Italian ace; Larry Carter, winner of the British air derby, and perhaps Sadi-Lacoste, the French speed-ster, make the Pulitzer 200-kilometer race that climaxes the show, October 3, international for the first time.

The army, which won the Pulitzer trophy at Detroit last year, will send its fastest, and the navy has constructed four new "mystery planes", two Wright racers and two Curtiss racers, especially built for this event. The seamen are determined to show better than last year, when Lieut. Russell Maughan won, setting a new world's record of 236.5 miles an hour with another army airman placing second.

Last week at Mineola one of the navy's new Wright planes, piloted by Lieut. L. H. Sanderson, hit the 238-mile-an-hour mark over a measured course. Lieut. Sanderson will pilot the same plane in the Pulitzer race. Lieut. S. W. Callaway will fly the other Wright racer and Lieut. A. J. Williams and Ensign H. J. Brow will pilot the two Curtiss planes for the navy in the same event.

Lieut. Brack-Papa will fly in his Fiat racer, said to be capable of developing 800 horsepower. The new Wright navy racers are said to develop 700 horse power, but the most powerful racing motor heretofore built in the United States has been of 600 horsepower. Lieut. Maughan's ship, in which he set the record last year, developed only 450 horsepower.

Lieut. Maughan will not compete this year. The army entries are Lieut. A. Pearson, in a Verville-Sperry racer, and Lieuts. J. D. Corkville and W. Miller in Curtiss racers.

The navy contingent of thirty-six enlisted men and nine pilots arrived and set up camp here Sept. 20. Nearly one-half of the detail is composed of marines. Several of the navy pilots now are flying from San Diego, Calif.; Pensacola, Fla., and the island of Hayti.

Navy and army representatives both have inspected the flying field and 50-kilometer triangular course and approved it.

Air board officials promoting the race here are making preparations to handle 200,000 spectators at the races.

The first event of the race will occur when civilian pilots from everywhere will compete in the "On-to-St. Louis" race for a $1,000 prize, awarded on compilation of speed, endurance and size of plane. These planes will arrive in time for the first day of the races, Oct. 1, it is calculated.

Two races will be held Monday—the 150-kilometer Flying Club of St. Louis Trophy, for two-seater airplanes driven by civilians, and the 300-kilometer Liberty Engine Builders Trophy, for military observation planes equipped with Liberty motors only.

On Tuesday commercial planes of 200 horsepower or less will race for the Aviation Country Club of Detroit Trophy, and large capacity planes will participate in a 300-kilometer race for the Merchant's Exchange of St. Louis Trophy.

The Detroit New Air Mail Trophy 300-kilometer race, for army mail pilots only, will be held Wednesday morning. The Pulitzer race will be held in the afternoon.

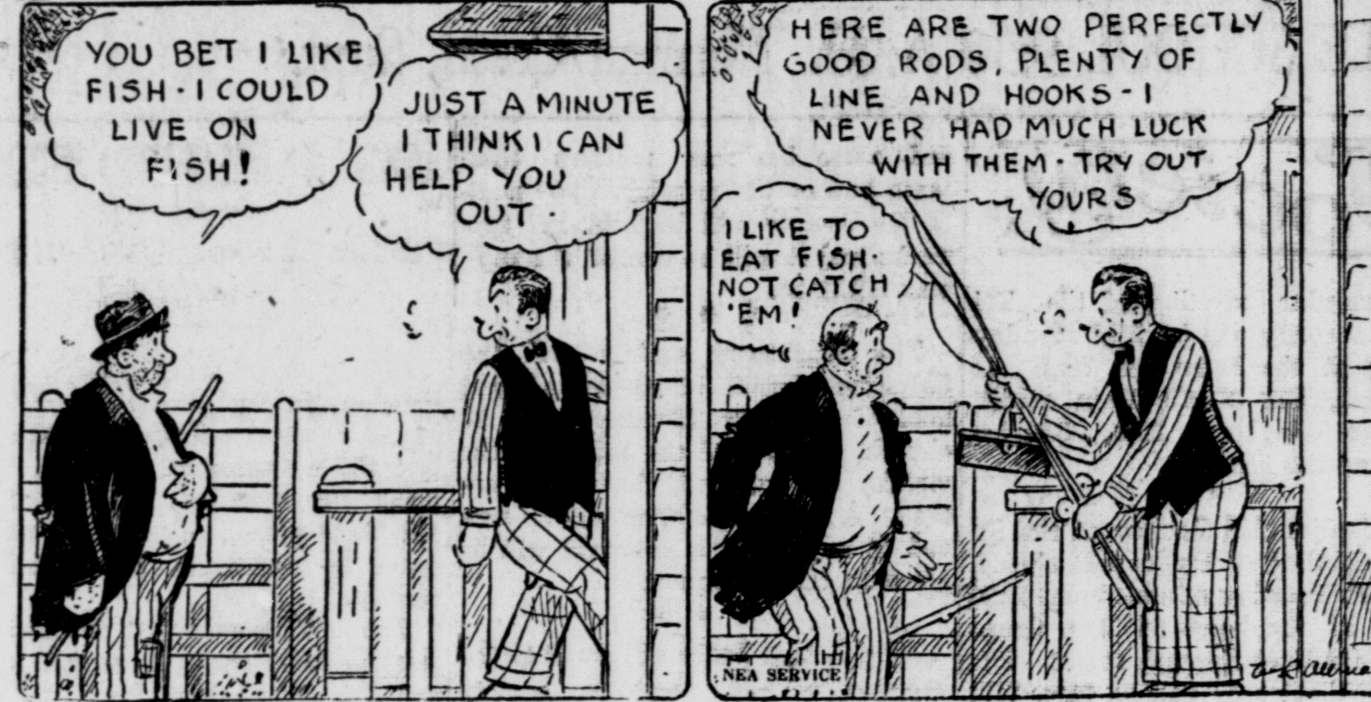

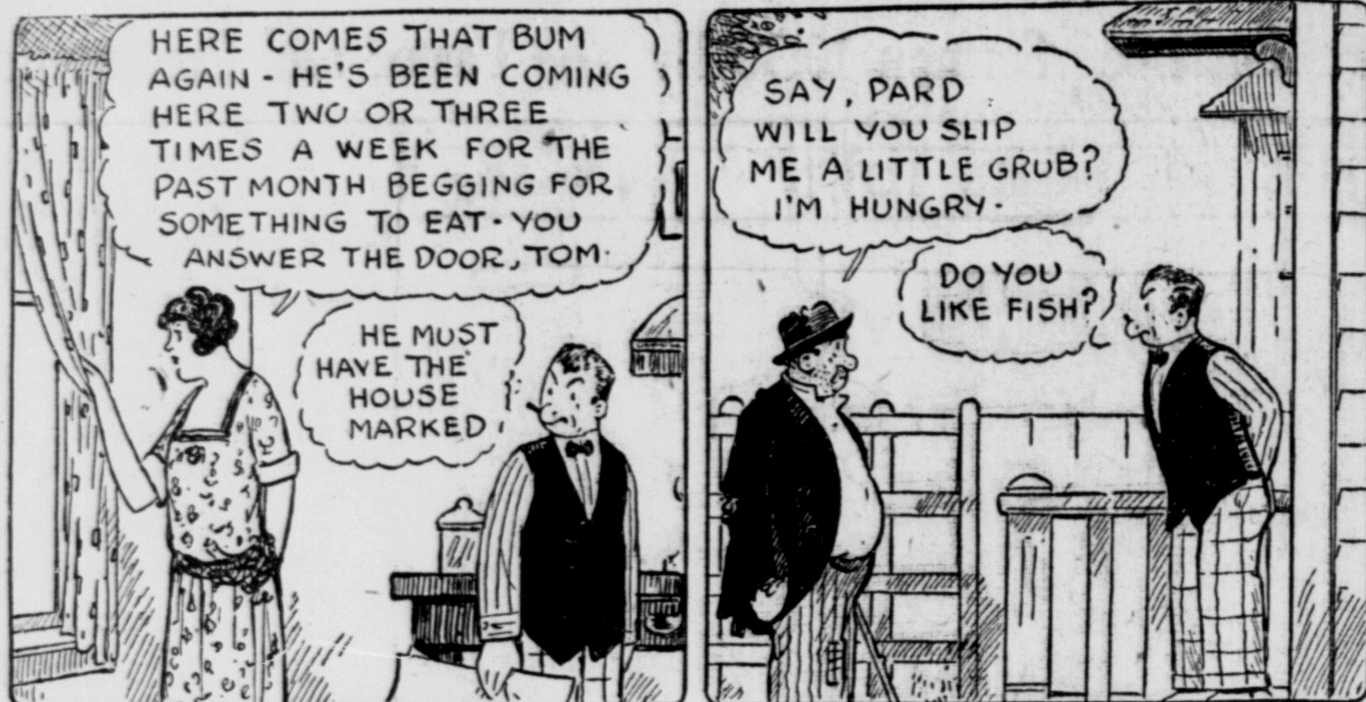

A race of model airplanes, driven by rubber bands, will be held Tuesday afternoon for a prize of $300. These midges will have wing spreads of 40 inches or less.

Several cabinet members and congressmen will attend a big aviation banquet Monday night. The nationstamina and the fortunate ability to recuperate quickly.

Tilden, in this respect is very much like Jack Dempsey, the world champion heavyweight. Dempsey has more ability to come back quickly than any fighter in the ring. One minute rest between rounds does as much for him as ten minutes would do for another fighter. Tilden has the same powers of recuperation. After the hardest three sets, Tilden can get a shower and a rubdown and come back perfectly refreshed and invigorated in ten minutes.

Like all masters, Tilden has made a study of his game. In this respect he is also like Dempsey. He looks for his weakness and once discovered, he works entirely to overcome that weakness. Dempsey, in training for a fight, does not like to look good before the crowd. He tries to perfect his weak points and naturally, while he is doing that, he does not look so good.

SUNDAY IS PROMOTION DAY -- THE MAIN ST. CHRISTIAN CHURCH

BIBLE SCHOOL 9:30 A. M. Norman Crum, Supt.

Short Illustrated Sermon 10:30 By The Pastor and Presentation of Bibles and Diplomas

Society

The regular meeting of the Tri Kappa sorority will be held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. L. M. Clark, 631 North Main street, with her daughter, Mrs. Charley Offutt as the hostess.

The Ladies Aid Society of the St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Grant Gregg, 214 East Seventh street. The assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Will Brann and Mrs. Sallie Craig.

Owing to the sickness of the hostess, the Young Ladies Mission Circle of the Main Street Christian church will not meet Monday evening, as scheduled, but will be postponed until Monday evening, October 8.

Mrs. W. A. Norris was hostess to the members of the Happy-Go-Lucky Club Thursday, when she entertained the members with a one o'clock luncheon at her home in West Seventh street. Fall flowers predominated in the decorations for the luncheon table. The guests enjoyed the afternoon socially with needlework.

Several of the pupils of the local high school formed a party Friday and attended the Indiana High School Editorial Association meeting held in Franklin yesterday and today. Those who attended were Margaret Guffin, who has been elected editor-in-chief of the Holedad for this year; William Blackledge, business manager of the Annual; Jean Herkless, Lillian Wilkinson and Dean Walker, history teacher, and a sponsor of the Senior class. They will return to this city this evening.

The members of the Delphian Society held a round table discussion Friday afternoon in the Elks Club room and discussed the second introductory chapter to the year book.

and some business matters that came before the meeting. The next of the society will be held in two weeks and it will be one of the regular meetings.

The Missionary society of the Christian church of Glenwood will hold Guest Day Monday at the church, and all of the ladies of the vicinity are cordially invited to attend. A pitch-in dinner will be served at noon, and a program will be given in the afternoon.

Miss Louise Innis will conduct the program at the Epworth League meeting to be held at St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church Sunday evening. An interesting program has been prepared, including special music and speaking, and all the members of the League are urged to attend. Miss Helen Jaehne will provide special music. This marks the opening meeting for the year, the league having had no meeting during the summer months.

Over two hundred attended the banquet and initiation given by the Martha Poe chapter, No. 143, O. E. S., Friday evening, at the Masonic Temple, honoring several of the grand officers of the lodge. The banquet tables were prettily adorned for the occasion with bouquets of fall flowers, and the repast was served in two courses. The honored guests were the past grand patron, Earl Payne; grand matron, Mrs. May Reeves of Princeton, Ind.; Associate grand matron, Mrs. Alice Kennedy, of Liberty; grand ada, Mrs. Ruth Carmichael of this city; and worthy matron, Mrs. Hall, of Connersville.

Following the serving of the banquet, six candidates were given the degree work and talks were given by the grand officers. The local lodge presented the grand matron with a silver spoon, as a gift from the members. During the grand officer's visit in this city, they were entertained at the home of Mrs. Carmichael and Mrs. Veri Bobout.

Petitions Seek Investigation Of Lawton, Okla., Whipping

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 29.—Petitions asking Governor J. C. Walton to order a military investigation into the whipping of the Rev. T. J. Irwin, Presbyterian pastor of Lawton, were presented to the executive today by residents of Comanche county.

The petition said that "hooded and masked mobs slugged, gagged, stripped and beat" Rev. Irwin and left him by the roadside, when he was thought dead.

The Rev. Mr. Irwin attracted national attention when he preached the funeral service of Jake Hamon, Oklahoma political leader, slain by Clara Smith.

LYDD GEORGE SETS SAIL

Admirers Of Ex-Premier Of England Bid His Bon Voyage

London, Sept. 29. — Hundreds of admirers of ex-Premier David Lloyd George were at Waterloo station today to bid him bon voyage.

The wartime premier, accompanied by Mrs. Lloyd George and their daughter, Meghan left for Southampton, whence they were to sail later in the day for New York aboard the Mauretania.

Dressed in a new suit of blue serge, a light greyish heliotrope overcoat and a gray fedora hat, his face ruddy and grinning like a school boy off for the holidays, the diminutive statesman was in high spirits.

He made a brief speech, ending: "Look out for the old country while I'm away."

NURSE KNOWN HERE

Miss Florence Campbell, formerly of Shelbyville, and well known here, was the trained nurse with "Daredevil" Lockwood when he made the non-stop automobile run of 120 hours and 30 minutes, last week, it became known here Friday when Lockwood and his nurse came to Rushville. Miss Campbell was formerly the wife of Frank Lyons of this city. Lockwood appeared at the Princess theatre Friday, describing the endurance test and showing pictures of a similar one he made at Toledo.

Cincinnati Cop Says He Owns The

Woolworth and Other Skyscrapers

New York, Sept. 29.—Warren Edwards, Cincinnati policeman, is still bent on becoming the world's richest landlord. According to his latest calculation, he hopes to be in possession of a large slice of lower Manhattan by 1948.

This slice comprises 160 acres. Experts grow dizzy when they try to figure its value. After they reach $1,000,000,000 they run out of zeros, for a few of the buildings in this area are:

	Stories
Woolworth	55
Singer	41
City Investing	33
Whitehall	32
Adams Express	32
American Express	32
A. T. & T.	28
Hudson Terminal	22

The assessed valuation of these few buildings is more than $90,000,000 and that is just a percentage of their actual value!

"It's going to be a hard fight," says Edwards, "to get back this property, but it's going to be a fight to a finish with a policeman against the wealthy New Yorkers."

Patrolman Edwards and a group of optimistic relatives argue like this:

"Back in the old days when George III was king of England, and Broadway wasn't even a pasture, one Robert Edwards acquitted himself with glory in the Indian Wars. As a reward, the king gave him a grant of 160 acres. Young Edwards went to work, cleared away the trees, and began a real estate boom in Manhattan. What once was the farm of Robert Edwards became the financial district of New York. The 160 acres extend from the battery to Park Row, and from Broadway to the Hudson river."

Policeman Edwards says he is a direct descendant of the old Indian fighter. One day he got to thinking about his worthy ancestor, and his property. He had the records searched, and then went to see a lawyer.

Attorney Geismar, of Cincinnati, is now handling the case for Edwards and the other relatives. His clients claim that their lucky predecessor got his land grant in 1750, leased it for a period of 99 years, at the expiration of which time the lease was renewed for another 99-year period.

And Edwards and his kin are now trying to prove this second lease expires in 1948 and that they should have the property then.

But while he's waiting, Edwards still sticks to his job as cop.

"One can never tell how such things turn out," he says. "It's best to play safe."

MILITIAMEN ON DUTY

Spruce Pine, N. C., Sept. 29.—Militia men were on duty here today to safeguard negroes following the deportation of 200 blacks by enraged citizens. The guardsmen were ordered out by Governor Morrison at Raleigh when he was advised that a mob of citizens seeking a negro who attacked an aged white woman, had stormed the state road construction camps and forced negroes to leave with a warning never to return to this section.

NO OPERATION FOR HER

She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Escaped the Operation Doctor Advised

Louisville, Ky. — "I wish to thank you for what your medicine has done for me. I was in bed for eight or nine days every month and had a great deal of pain. The doctor said my only relief was an operation. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines and tried the Vegetable Compound and the Sanative Wash, and they surely did wonders for me. I feel fine all the time now, also am picking up in weight. I will tell any one that your medicines are wonderful, and you may publish my letter if you wish." — Mrs. Ed. BOEHLEIN, 1130 Ash St., Louisville, Ky.

Backache, nervousness, painful times, irregularity, tired and run-down feelings, are symptoms of female troubles. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken whenever there is reason to fear such troubles. It contains nothing that can injure, and tends to tone up and strengthen the organs concerned, so that they may work in a healthy, normal manner. Let it help you as it has thousands of others. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is now selling almost all over the world.

CARON WILL SERVE PENAL FARM TERM

Pleads Guilty To Charge Of Unlawfully Transporting Liquor And Is Sentenced

ALSO FINED $100 AND COSTS

James Cranley, His Companion, To Go On Trial Later—Decisions In Other Cases

Lester Caron, who was scheduled to go on trial Monday in the circuit court on a charge of unlawfully transporting liquor, has entered a plea of guilty to the charge, and was given a fine of $100 and costs and a six months sentence by Judge Sparks.

The defendant will be taken to the State Penal farm Monday by Sheriff Hunt, where he will begin serving his sentence.

James Cranley, companion of the defendant, also faces a similar charge, and his case has not been set for trial. It will be recalled that the two young men were charged with bringing a machine load of liquor into the city several weeks ago, and Cranley was arrested in the machine, and it is understood that he made a confession implicating Caron.

In the case of the Peoples National bank against Russell Coons et al., a complaint on a note, the evidence was heard this morning, and the defendants defaulted, which resulted in the court awarding the plaintiff $488.39 judgment.

Judge Sparks also this morning refused a new trial in the case of Harold Reeves against Joe Clark in which the plaintiff was awarded $53.35 and costs judgment, and to which the defendant filed a motion for another trial. The motion and arguments for a new trial were filed in July, and the decision rendered today.

The evidence in the case of David E. Teal against Regina Brummer, which was heard several days ago, and taken under advisement, was decided in court this morning by Judge Sparks, who awarded the plaintiff $85 and costs as judgment.

The complaint was on a mechanics lien, and involved the painting of a dwelling house, which was alleged to have been performed unsatisfactorily.

RUSHVILLE MAN HAS INSIDE TRACK

Supporters Of Sam L. Trabue Hopeful Of His Election As K. of P. Grand Outer Guard

CONVENTION OPENS MONDAY

Members of the Knights of Pythias lodge are preparing to attend the annual convention of the Indiana domain of the order in Indianapolis next week. More than ordinary interest centers in the annual convention in Rush county, this year because Samuel L. Trabue of this city is believed to have the inside track for the office of grand outer guard, which is the stepping stone to the highest office of Pythianism in Indiana.

Mr. Trabue was defeated by the narrow margin of one vote last year, which gives him the preferred position this year, and there is little doubt in the minds of Rushville and Milroy Knights of Pythias but that Mr. Trabue will be the choice of the convention. Aside from the grand trustees, the outer guard is the only elective office, because beginning with this office, the grand officers advance one step higher each year until they become grand chancellor.

Rushville and Milroy lodges will have large delegations on hand to advance Mr. Trabue's interest. The Rushville man is opposed by Othaniel Hitch of Indianapolis, but on account of having been so close to the coveted honor last year, is expected to the choice of the convention this year.

HUNTS WITHOUT PERMISSION

John Davis, living in northern Rush county, near Knightstown, was fined $10 and costs by J. P. Stech, justice of the peace, this morning for violation of the game laws. He was arrested by a game warden on a charge of hunting without permission and the fine and costs amounted to $22.75.

LAST TEACHERS' TEST HELD

Hereafter Licenses Will Be Based On Training Received

The last teachers' examination that will ever be held in Rush county, so long as the present law is in force, took place in the teachers' examination room in the court house today, and many teachers took advantage of the opportunity.

According to the terms of the new statute, teachers will be awarded licenses on the amount of training they have received for their chosen work. In the past the term of a teacher's license has depended upon grades made in examinations, but from now on they will be based on the work that teachers have done in normal schools and colleges.

EIGHTEEN DEAD AND 3 MISSING

Violent Wind And Rain Storm Takes Toll In Nebraska And Iowa During Night

EIGHT KILLED IN ONE HOUSE

C. B. & Q. Officials Expect to be Able to Clear up Casper, Wyo., Wreckage Today

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 29.—Eighteen persons are dead, three missing and a score injured as the result of a violent wind and rain storm which swept Nebraska and Iowa during the night.

Twelve persons, eight of whom were gathered in one house to mourn the death of Mrs. Mary McCarver, whose funeral services were concluded yesterday were killed at Louisville, Neb.

Five persons, including a mother and three small sons, were killed at Council Bluffs, Ia.

Dr. A. A. Ward, of Marquette, Neb., was found buried under his overturned car at Grand Island.

Three persons are missing at Council Bluffs, including Clarence Dalton, a dairy man, an unknown man reported to have walked into a manhole and a railroad worker at the Wabash roundhouse which was partially destroyed.

Casper, Wyo., Sept. 29.—Additional wrecking equipment arrived today at Lockett, 14 miles east of here, where passenger train No. 30 on the C. B. & Q. railroad went through a bridge Thursday night and railroad officials expected to be able to clear out most of the wreckage during the day. Twenty missing passengers are believed buried in the wreckage in Cole creek.

Three bodies recovered from the mass of twisted steel in the swirling waters have been brought to Casper. Continual rains have been falling at the headwaters of the little mountain stream resulting in the creek bed, which is usually dry, retaining the proportions of a torrent and preventing rescue work.

Ruin which has been falling here for two days, ceased early this morning and the additional wrecking crews equipped with heavy lifting machinery left here at dawn for the scene. The storm had forced workers to stop their efforts to clear up the wreck during the night.

JAPANESE CITIES SHAKEN

Those Which Escaped Destruction Sept. 1 Feel Earth Tremors

Pekin, Sept. 29.—Osaka and Kobe leading cities of Japan which escaped destruction in the quakes of September 1, were shaken today by tremors of moderate intensity. The new shocks caused no damage and were not felt in other cities.

The tremendous earthquakes which destroyed Tokio and Yokohama this month, drove thousands of refugees to Kobe and Osaka and the latter cities have taken over much of the economic and official life of the devastated capital and its port city.

Pekin Sept. 29.—Heavy and damaging earthquakes shook the district around Kerman, in Persia, according to advices from Teheran today, which gave no details.

BOYHOOD HEROES

LACKED EVIDENCE, HEADLEE IS FREED

Judge Hines Instructs Jury To Acquit Gowdy Garage Owner, Charged With Liquor Violation

CASE IS ENDED SUDDENLY

Prosecution Is Again Fronted With Serious Status Of Indiana's Poor Liquor Law

The liquor law violation case against Sylvia Headlee, garage owner of Gowdy, was suddenly terminated late Friday, when Judge Fred Hines of Noblesville, special judge in the case, sustained a motion filed by A. C. Stevens, attorney for the defense, in which the defendant maintained that the state had not produced evidence sufficient to warrant conviction.

Judge Hines then instructed the jury to retire to their room, and return a verdict for the defense, and explained that the state did not have enough evidence.

The jury was out long enough to elect a foreman and cast a ballot, and they then returned the verdict of not guilty.

Judge Hines instructed Sheriff Hunt to destroy the evidence, "forthwith," and the contents of a quart bottle of moonshine went gurgling down the sewer. A few drops were poured on the floor, and a match was applied, showing that the corn liquor is highly inflammable.

Prosecutor Ketchum is no way responsible for the failure of the suit to materialize, as the case again shows the condition that the liquor law is in, and such conditions will have to stand until the legislature can pass a new law.

The evidence introduced at the trial did not prove a sale of liquor, nor was there sufficient evidence to show that the garage was a nuisance. There was no evidence to show transportation of liquor.

Several of the witnesses for the state testified that the garage was frequented by many people during the winter and spring months, but it was also brought out by these witnesses that the garage was the common loafing place in Gowdy, and that the store did not have a stove around which loafers could assemble.

The witnesses themselves also admitted that they had been among the loafers at the garage at some time or other.

NEW RECORD OF ATTENDANCE

Purdue Enrollment Expected To Set High Mark This Year

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 29.—A new record for attendance will be established at Purdue University before the close of enrollment, according to a statement given out today by President E. C. Elliott. The total enrollment now is 2823. Final enrollment last year was 2858.

This new record will be in spite of a slump in enrollment in the schools of agriculture, mechanical engineering, and science.

The freshman engineering class is the largest in the history of the University, numbering 574 as compared to 541 last year. The freshman agricultural class lost 59, which is attributed to hard times among the farmers.

LOCAL STOCKHOLDERS PROFIT BY DECISION

Indianapolis Judge Decides For Plaintiff In Automatic Train Control Case

J. W. ARBUCKLE FILED SUIT

Word has been received here of a court decision handed down by Judge Moll, Superior court room 5, Indianapolis, in the case of Arbuckle vs. the Automatic Train Control Company, in which many Rushville and Rush county persons are interested as stockholders. The suit was filed by J. W. Arbuckle of Homer in order to protect stockholders from being defrauded, and the decision was rendered in favor of Mr. Arbuckle's petition.

By the terms of the decision, the company's device is placed in the hands of some of the following men and concerns, Mr. Arbuckle of Homer, Clawson, Briscoe and Baldwin of Indianapolis, Golden of Columbus and Lutz of Seymour.

Of the many devices that have been proposed for automatic train control, the Stiegelmeier device is said to be in a class by itself, according to the testimony of numerous railroad officials and mechanical engineers. One division each of 51 of the principal railroads in the United States must be equipped with automatic controls by January 1, 1925, according to the ruling of the interstate commerce commission, which has jurisdiction in the matter.

The litigation involved a question in royalties, between the inventor Stiegelmeier, and the promoters.

TAX BURDEN HAS BEEN LIGHTENED

Caused By Lower Rates Fixed By New Revenue Law, According To Report Of M. Burt Thurman

REDUCTION OF $7,000,000

Record Breaking Prosperity Of Year Had Its Effect In Keeping Up The Collections

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 29.—The lightening of the federal tax burden in Indiana by more than $7,000,000 in the last year because of the lower rates fixed by the new revenue law is shown by the annual report of M. Burt Thurman collector from Ind., sent to Treasury officials. Collections for the fiscal year ended last June 30 were $45,752,721 as compared with $53,032,399 the year before.

For the country as a whole, the tax reduction amounted to $575,705,955, according to the announcement at Washington of Commissioner Blair. With this decrease, federal taxes were cut to almost half the collections made in 1921, the last year under the law enacted by the Democratic congress. The year 1923 was the first full year of tax collections with all the reductions of the present Republican law in force and under it the collections were $2,021,745,227, a reduction of $2,000,000,000 over 1921.

The lower rates on income, especially the smaller taxpayers, were largely responsible for the reduction. This is proved by the Indiana figures showing collections of $25,040,000 this year, compared with $49,809,500 in 1921. The beginning in sealing down these taxes started with the enactment of the Republican law and had its effect last year when the collections were $30,715,000 or almost $20,000,000 less than under the Democratic revenue law.

The record breaking prosperity of this year had its effect in keeping up the collections as shown by the large amount of profit taxes despite the lower rates placed on manufactured goods by the new law. As indicative of this prosperity, collections for the entire country in June were $633,656,000 against $465,099,000 for June last year.

The high school coaches of the county schools are scheduled for a meeting this afternoon with B. D. Farthing, county school superintendent, at which time the basketball team composed of the coaches will be organized.

At a meeting of the school principals this week, it was decided to perfect an organization of coaches, who will play independent basketball on off-nights during the winter months. John Koch of Manilla has been chosen manager of the team, and Vernal Klipsch of Webb is to act as coach for the team. A strong aggregation of college stars will represent the county in the team.

FORMAL SURRENDER SET FOR NEXT WEEK

French Troops Will Be Increased Upon Receipt Of Word Passive Resistance Has Ended

FEAR INTERNAL DISORDER

By LLOYD ALLEN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
London, Sept. 29.—Germany will give formal notice of her surrender to France early next week.

Contrary to expectations, however, French troops in the Ruhr will be increased upon receipt of official advices that passive resistance has ended.

Germany's internal situation, it is felt here and in Paris, will become critical immediately the order to resume work is given. The occupational forces will take no chances by premature withdrawal but will be pushed up to the border lines between occupied and unoccupied Germany, ready for any eventuality.

When the internal situation clears, a gesture of reducing the stringency of the occupation is in order from France.

This is understood to be the semi-official British view of opinion, based on intimation from Paris.

An international conference will follow.

WOUNDED MAN IS SOUGHT BY POLICE

One of Party of Four Masked Men Who Threatened to Kill Woman is Shot

WANTED HER TO TESTIFY

St. Louis, Mo. Sept. 29.—A wounded man, one of a masked party of four who threatened to kill Mrs. E. J. Benjamin, wife of a Coalterville, Ill., rural mail carrier last Monday morning, unless she refused to testify in an alienation suit in circuit court at Chester, Ill., was sought by police in St. Louis hospitals today.

Mrs. Benjamin, seeing the four men adjusting masks as they left an automobile to enter her house, grabbed a gun.

The masked quartet knocked on the door. She opened it and the leader asked if she intended to testify for the defense in the $10,000 alienation suit of Henry Grossing, St. Louis, against L. B. Jones, retired mine operator.

"I'll tell the truth," she replied. "You won't go on the witness stand. We're Ka Kluxers from town and we'll kill you first," the leader said.

Mrs. Benjamin shot. The speaker fell. She slammed the door, and two of the masked men carried the speaker to the car.

R. H. S. STUDENTS ATTEND BANQUET

Local High School Represented At Meeting Of Indiana High School Press Association

Local High School Represented At Meeting Of Indiana High School Press Association

SENATOR WATSON A SPEAKER

Well Known Newspaper Men Give Embryo Editors Value Of Their Experience In Addresses

The Rushville high school was represented by a delegation of students at the Indiana High School Press association banquet held at Franklin, Friday night, which was addressed by Senator James E. Watson of this city, Lee White of the Detroit News and Fred Shortemeyer of Indianapolis, secretary of the Indiana Republican state central committee. Sessions were also held in the afternoon at which many Indiana newspaper men spoke, giving the embryo editors the value of their experience.

"The world has been inclined to make its judgment of the newspaper press on the basis of criticism from such sensational writers and confused witnesses as Upton Sinclair," declared Lee White. "It seems that while those criticisms must be taken into account the truer judgment of the motives, the character and the influence of the press is based upon other evidence. That other evidence is the tremendous interest the young men and women of our high schools and colleges are showing in journalism. This interest is being manifested not only by those who contemplate pursuit of journalism as a profession, but by those whose sympathy share, with us of the craft a passion for the discovery and the dissemination of the truth. All of this enthusiasm of young students must mean a great stimulus to the newspaper men and women because it means a more discriminating reading public is in training and presages a press as much better than today's as today's is better than yesterday's."

Declaring that newspaper work is a stepping stone to the individual, Earl Mushlitz of The Indianapolis Star delivered a speech full of sound journalistic advice to the editors at the group conference this afternoon. Lot Lee of the Indianapolis News spoke on staff organization and K. B. Bower of the Art Craft Guild on the value of comics. In his speech Mushlitz brought out the difference between the journalism of yesterday and today. He gave many tips to the embryo writers about the organization of a story and the preparation of copy.

"Let us hope that the time will come when an editorial staff of a student publication will receive honor comparable to that given to athletes," said Dr. H. N. Sherwood in addressing the opening session.

"The regular high school curriculum is all right, but to the student it comes from above. It is prescribed. No student helped plan it. From the very start he rebels. It is a passive resistance, however, and the strength that would go into open rebellion is directed to some form of student activity. It may be athletics; it may be public speaking or debate; it may be school publications. But it is extra-curricular," declared the well-known educator.

"I am for high school publications because they furnish an opportunity for youth to learn the art of meeting responsibility; they the a powerful agent in bringing all the forces of the school and community together for united action; they make a permanent record of the school; but most because of connection with them tends to create men of worthy ideals. At first thought it would appear that work on a school paper primarily prepared one for a vocation, that of a journalist, but I think it is a kind of education that creates men who will devote themselves to the service of their community."

Dr. C. E. Goddell, president of Franklin college, and A. L. Taylor, secretary of the Franklin Chamber of Commerce, made brief welcome addresses.

METAL BEING SPREAD ON INDIANA STATE HIGHWAYS

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 29. — Opening to traffic of a section of new pavement north of Spotsburg on State Road 1; establishment of additional short detours, most of which present fair roadbed to motorists and the construction of culverts, spreading of considerable metal and repair of bridges, marked the principal changes in state highway work of special interest to the traveling public for the week of Sept. 30-October 6, John R. Williams, director of the state highway department says in the commission's weekly traffic bulletin on condition of state roads, issued today.

Attention is called that traffic may now proceed over new construction south of Logansport on No. 15 and that the commission is speeding up work on a section between Laporte and Michigan City in order to provide an outlet for traffic in the next few days. The situation is more serious at this point owing to the fact that the state is building and also the county working on the most available roads into Michigan City. A small bridge out 4 miles north of Indianapolis necessitates a detour, well marked.

Mr. Williams expressed pleasure at progress of construction work and said that in the event of a late fall, the greater amount of all mileage contracted will be completed. Maintenance work is being speeded up and secondary roads put in condition for late fall and winter traffic.

DAIRY PRODUCTS—While butter markets were steady at the close today, toward the middle of the week sharp breaks in prices occurred. Demand had been good, and production is apparently falling off, but with considerable butter being drawn from storage, dealers have lost confidence in the markets, at the high prices which have ruled. Closing prices 92 score butter: N. Y. 46c; Chicago 44, Phila. 47c; Boston 46c.

Cheese markets firm at prices about 2c higher than a week ago. Demand somewhat dull as result of the advance, but up to the time these occurred it was good, even including some speculative buying. Heaviest trading took place at distributing markets, with business at country points a little quiet. Closing prices at Wisconsin primary cheese markets Sept. 27: Twins 25c; single dairies 26c; Longhorns 26c; square prints 27c; double dairies 26c; young Americas 26c.

PURDUE SWINE DAY SHOWS HOG LITTERS

Fifteen Different Lots Raised by State University Are Feature of The Program

SEVERAL TALKS ARE GIVEN

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 29. —"Bigger and better hogs" was the slogan of the Purdue Swine Day which was held here today under the direction of the Purdue University Experiment station.

Gilbert Buster, Chicago specialist on livestock markets, spoke on the general agricultural situation and the hog market prospects. James R. Wiley, state leader of the Hoosier Lion Litter club, gave a short talk.

Fifteen different lots of hogs raised by the experiment station were on exhibition in the judging pavilion. Each lot has been fed a different ration during the summer, but otherwise the conditions under which they were raised were the same.

The difference in the development of the hogs showed the value of the different kinds of feed.

AMUSEMENTS

Western At The Mystic

Pete Morrison will be seen today at the Mystic in "Western Blood," a thrilling picture of western life. The episode in which he gallops madly in pursuit of the creature, who in order to appease his selfish ends, would have deprived the widowed mother and her daughter of their only possible means of support, and lassoes him off his horse while going at terrific speed in flight to Mexico, and brings him headlong to the ground, there to engage in one of those fights in which the contestants seem to lose all control that civilization has instilled into them, and become like raving creatures of the forest, bent on crushing the opponent until he lies broken at his feet. This is merely one of the thrilling instances that appear in "Western Blood," and you will be missing one of the best Pete Morrison features if you fail to see this unusual picture of the great southwest.

Forest Fire At Princess

"The thrill that comes once in a lifetime" was experienced by Marguerite de la Motte, Lloyd Hughes and Frank Keenan in the filming of the great forest fire scene, in Thomas H. Ince's latest premier production, "Scars of Jealousy." While filming the forest fire scenes of this picture the three famous screen stars found themselves nearly surrounded by flames, and made their escape only with the greatest difficulty.

Work on the picture had been suspended for months while Mr. Ince waited for news that a forest fire such as he wanted to film had broken out in northern California. When word was flashed to his studio that a forest ranger was preparing to clear out a timber tract in northern California he summoned his company and with his directors and camera men rushed to the scene, where the principals of the cast staged the thrilling climax of the play.

Suddenly the wind veered and the flames, eating their way through the branches overhead, jumped the distance of a city block. Another shift in the wind and a blazing sheet of fire circled back to entrap the actors. Experienced woodsmen warned the company of its imminent danger and helped them to escape. Five minutes later the "location" on which the company had been working was a roaring inferno. They had escaped none too soon.

"Scars of Jealousy," in which the thrilling forest fire scenes are depicted, is showing at the Princess theatre today.

Farm Relief

Some members of congress are trying to "out-radical" each other in their wild striving for the farmer vote. They think the farmer is in trouble due to the comparative low value of his products and they evidently imagine that the one who happens onto a solution will advance his political interests. Some of these so-called liberals may be honest and sincere, but some of the "eures" they have proposed will lead thinking people to question their motives.

The latest fool idea is "subsidizing" the farmer. The day before it was revival of the federal grain corporation so that the price of wheat might be fixed at some place near $1.75 cents a bushel. In some quarters it was suggested that the interstate commerce commission reduce freight rates on all products of the farm and that freight rates be reduced on wheat and flour designated for export, and that the loss which the railroads would sustain through such reduction be made up by increasing rates on other commodities.

Of course, the farmer does not want to be "subsidized", that is if he is a farmer who looks into the future, because he must know that other business men are well organized and that no sooner than the farmers had completed a raid on the public treasury, they would have their forces ready for the subsidizing of their business. The conclusion is plain. Government of the representative sort would end.

Fixing the price of wheat would be equally as dangerous, because it would open the way for the regulation of the price of all commodities, which is entirely foreign to the American form of government, and our ideas of personal rights guaranteed under the constitution.

The suggestion that freight rates on wheat and flour for export be reduced and the loss to the railroads be made up by increasing the rates on other commodities would be class legislation, and in any event would not benefit the farmer to any great extent. While he might make more on his wheat, he would have to pay the increased freight rate on other things, which fact would come home to him when he went into the market to buy.

The theorists who have been agonizing over the plight of the farmer have been explaining for some time that the difficulty would be overcome if we could find a greater foreign market. If we would but understand that only five percent of the products of the farm are exported, and that the other ninety-five percent is consumed in the United States, those who are misled by such idle talk would turn a deaf ear to it.

The purpose of honest friends of the farmer should be to build up the home market, because that is where ninety-five percent of the buyers of his product are to be found. What chance has he of improving his condition by devoting his time with the minor five percent to the neglect of the major ninety-five percent.

The home market is improved and has greater buying power when those who use the products of the farm are employed and are happy and prosperous. Therefore, the legislator who devotes his attention to protecting the interests of those who consume the farmers' produce, is the farmers' true friend. The congressman or senator who believes that the laboring man should be protected against the competition of cheaply manufactured goods from abroad has at heart the interests of the laboring man as well as the farmer. If the laboring man is not employed, certainly he can not buy the products that originate on the farm.

The free traders are still mocking the framers of the present protective tariff because the price of wheat has been so low, but the fact of the matter is that the law of supply and demand has figured largely in the present situation, due to the abundant crops of grain abroad as well as in the United States. Even so, Canadian wheat is selling for several cents under the price received by American farmers, and thanks to the tariff on wheat, the farmers do not have to meet the competition of Canadian grain.

New Use Is Found For Monument in Indianapolis

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 29.—A new use has been found for the Soldiers' and Sailors' monument and not exactly the use for which it was intended when the citizens of the state erected the monument in honor of their soldier dead.

It is being used to aid in reducing fat.

A traveling man who visited in Indianapolis almost despairing of ridding him of surplus pounds of flesh, conceived the idea of walking up and down the thirty-two flights of steps at the monument once every day.

Puffing and panting the man went through the exercise conscientiously every day. At the end of the week he heaved all over and told W. E. Shilling, cashier at the monument, that he was losing weight.

Shilling says he thinks others are using the same method.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From The Daily Republican Wednesday, Sept. 30, 1908

J. L. Cowing attended a meeting of the board of trustees of the East Haven Insane asylum which was held at Governor Hanly's office in Indianapolis yesterday.

The Milroy saw mill owned by Olive Richey was completely destroyed by fire last midnight. The mill just started up yesterday and it is thought the mill caught from the engine in some way. When discovered the fire had destroyed almost one end of the mill near the boiler room.

Mrs. John Petty, who formerly lived in North-Sexton street, and Mrs. N. G. Wills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Clark of North Main street, were both in a peculiar accident at Connersville late yesterday afternoon. Shortly after four o'clock an I. & C. car struck a buggy occupied by Mrs. Petty. The conductor and motorman left the car to care for the injured woman and because of the down grade of the track at that place the car started and without conductor or motorman ran to the terminal station where it crashed into a freight car. Mrs. N. G. Wills and little baby were the only occupants of the car. Mrs. Wills with her baby in her arms jumped before the passenger ran into the freight car, and escaped injury.

What might have been a serious fire was narrowly averted last night. An overheated stove in the postoffice was discovered about midnight. Clarence Cross clerk, was notified, and he put out the fire.

Walter Thomas came Sunday from Colon, Panama and arrived in time to celebrate his birthday with a dinner at the home of his father, J. Q. Thomas, in Brookside. He visited his uncle, George W. Thomas, in North Perkins street this week, and will leave the latter part of the week for a visit with relatives in Wabash.

Dr. Frank Green and Dr. W. S. Coleman went to Indianapolis today in Dr. Coleman's car.

Owne Bush, playing with Detroit yesterday, in two games had fourteen chances, accepted thirteen of them, got two hits and two runs.

Col. "Jim" Worth passed through the city yesterday morning from Andersonville enroute to his home in Joplin, Mo. He was attired in a seersucker suit and straw hat and from all appearance had forgotten to read the weather report.

A movement is on foot to hold a horse show here sometime during the latter part of October, probably about the 19th or 21st. A meeting of those interested was held at the court house last night and a committee appointed to secure facts as to the financial support the show could get. On this committee were named Will Bliss, Ad Denning, P. A. Miller, Sherman Oneal, George Weeks and A. L. Riggs.

BLACKMAIL ALLEGED

Los Angeles, Calif., Sept. 29.—The district attorneys office today investigated what is believed to be a plot to blackmail a number of movie stars, including Marshall Neilan and Gloria Swanson.

While no names involved were made public, District Attorney Asa Keys admitted that such a probe was under way. It is said to have been the result of complaints made by Marshall Neilan and Mrs. Adeline L. Burns, mother of Gloria Swanson, that a former employee of Mrs. Burns had tried to extort money from Gloria and from Neilan on the threat to make public charges that they were intimate and had also demanded that Neilan give him a large salary job in pictures.

"WORSE THAN PAIN"

Louisiana Lady Says She Has "New" or Found Anything Better Than Cardui for a Run-Down Condition.

Morgan City, La.—"It would be hard for me to tell how much benefit I have derived from the use of Cardui," said Mrs. I. G. Bowman, of 1319 Front Street, this city.

"I was so run-down in health I could hardly go. I was thin. I had no appetite. Could not rest or sleep well. I was so weak, and so very nervous, I was no pleasure to myself.

"I suffered some pain, but the worst of my trouble was from being so weak and easy to get tired and out of heart. "This nervous condition was worse than pain.

"Some one told me of Cardui, and I decided to use it.

"After using a few bottles, I regained my strength. I wasn't so nervous, and began to eat and sleep, and grew stronger and was soon well.

"I have never found anything better for a run-down condition."

If you suffer as this Louisiana lady did, you, too, should find Cardui helpful for your troubles.

Safety Sam's Sermonette

I reckon nothin' ever invented by man has been copied an' imitated with anywhere near th' amount o' success as th' automobile; bein' made o' sheet metal, bent into all sorts o' fantastic shapes t' make it pleasin' th' eyes o' th' suckers, it was only natural that after seein' one or two, somebody'd think right off that he could make a first class imitation out o' waste tin, cut out o' empty t'mato cans an' garbage pails that'd seen their best days.

Seems like it's just naturally in most people t' try t' imitate; mebbe, if Bill Bryan's wrong, we get it from our forefathers who swung from cocoanut trees by their tails, imitatin' a snake an' a squirrel at th' same time, all th' time puttin' out a line o' chatter that's imitated t' this very day, any time the sewing circle meets or th' gang at th' cigar store starts analyzin' th' baseball dope. C'nsiderin' this streak in human nature, it aint in th' least s'p'risin' that as soon as somethin' had been invented that could travel faster'n th' th' fam'ly nag, some bird 'd try t' imitate a cannon ball with it. Th' competition in this line, while it was limited for quite a spell, has by virtue o' th' imitative activities of a certain gent in producin' imitations o' th' real article in automobiles in unlimited numbers, b'come about as unlimited as them. In their frenzied efforts t' do a first class imitation o' d'aredeviltry, what they actu'ly imitate is th' bird who imagines he's Napoleon Bonypart, playin' th' part o' th' Headless Horseman; men in uniforms, with sawed-off shotguns, lassoes an' tear bombs now 'n then go out huntin' for th' real article after he's escaped from th' padded cell house—an' it's a wonder they don't capture these imitations, thinkin' they're th' real article!

AIR PILOTS READY FOR RACES OCT. 1

New Records in Aviation Are Expected to be Established in International Race at St. Louis

MANY EUROPEAN ENTRIES

Air Board Officials Promoting the Race Making Preparation to Handle 200,000 Spectators

By HERBERT LITTLE
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 29—The fastest, the highest, the biggest, and smallest flying machines will assemble at St. Louis flying field here October 1 for the international air races, seven speed classics that are expected to establish new records in aviation.

Several European entries, including Brack-Papa, Italian ace; Larry Carter, winner of the British air derby, and perhaps Sadi-Lecointe, the French speedster, make the Pulitzer 200-kilometer race that climaxes the show, October 3, international for the first time.

The army, which won the Pulitzer trophy at Detroit last year, will send its fastest, and the navy has constructed four new "mystery planes", two Wright racers and two Curtiss racers, especially built for this event. The seamen are determined to show better than last year, when Lieut. Russell Maughan won, setting a new world's record of 236.5 miles an hour with another army airman placing second.

Last week at Mineola one of the navy's new Wright planes, piloted by Lieut. L. H. Sanderson, hit the 238-mile-an-hour mark over a measured course. Lieut. Sanderson will pilot the same plane in the Pulitzer race. Lieut. S. W. Callaway will fly the other Wright racer and Lieut. A. J. Williams and Ensign H. J. Brow will pilot the two Curtiss planes for the navy in the same event.

Lieut. Brack-Papa will fly in his Fiat racer, said to be capable of developing 800 horsepower. The new Wright navy racers are said to develop 700 horse power, but the most powerful racing motor heretofore built in the United States has been of 400 horsepower. Lieut. Maughan's ship, in which he set the record last year, developed only 450 horsepower.

Lieut. Maughan will not compete this year. The army entries are Lieut. A. Pearson, in a Verville-Sperry racer, and Lieuts. J. D. Corkville and W. Miller in Curtiss racers.

The navy contingent of thirty-six enlisted men and nine pilots arrived and set up camp here Sept. 20. Nearly one-half of the detail is composed of marines. Several of the navy pilots now are flying from San Diego, Calif.; Pensacola, Fla., and the island of Haiti.

Navy and army representatives both have inspected the flying field and 50-kilometer triangular course and approved it.

Air board officials promoting the race here are making preparations to handle 200,000 spectators at the races.

The first event of the race will occur when civilian pilots from everywhere will compete in the "On-to-St. Louis" race for a $1,000 prize, awarded on compilation of speed, endurance and size of plane. These planes will arrive in time for the first day of the races, Oct. 1, it is calculated.

Two races will be held Monday—the 150-kilometer Flying Club of St. Louis Trophy, for two-seater airplanes driven by civilians, and the 300-kilometer Liberty Engine Builders Trophy, for military observation planes equipped with Liberty motors only.

On Tuesday commercial planes of 200 horsepower or less will race for the Aviation Country Club of Detroit Trophy, and large capacity planes will participate in a 300-kilometer race for the Merchants Exchange of St. Louis Trophy.

The Detroit New Air Mail Trophy 300-kilometer race, for army mail pilots only, will be held Wednesday morning. The Pulitzer race will be held in the afternoon.

A race of model airplanes, driven by rubber bands, will be held Tuesday afternoon for a prize of $300. These midgest will have wing spreads of 40 inches or less.

Several cabinet members and congressmen will attend a big aviation banquet Monday night. The nation-

World's Greatest Tennis Star

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Sept. 29—With the possible exception of Babe Ruth, no athlete in America has become as proficient and as perfect in his line as has Bill Tilden, the tennis champion.

Long considered as one of the best players of all time, Tilden never reached the positive state until this year he did not feel like showing exactly how superior he was over all other players in the world.

Tilden, in the unanimous opinion of those who have made tennis a hobby and a study, is the greatest player in all history of the game. Perhaps his skill will never be equaled, and certainly it can hardly be surpassed, as his game is perfect from top to bottom.

The world's champion player possesses more strokes and is more adept at them than any other player in the world. He is so good and his game is so versatile that he deliberately chooses to assume the specialty of his opponents and beat them at their own game.

Up until this season, Tilden never had been exhibited at its maximum because he preferred to ease up and give his opponents a chance, instead of swarming over them and annihilating them with the full power of his game.

In the recent national championships Tilden apparently got the notion to show how wonderful a player he was. He made Manuel Alonso the first victim of his demonstration by taking a straight set from him and allowing him only two games. Alonso is one of the finest players in the world and earlier in the season, when he had been touring with Tilden, he had beaten the champion once.

The real demonstration of Tilden's power, however, came in the final round when he completely overwhelmed Billy Johnston, the California star, and won from him in straight sets. Johnston, regarded as being close to Tilden in ability, never had a chance, and what points he earned were only gained because he had a game heart that kept him trying when it was evident that he had no more chance than a novice school boy.

There is no doubt now that Tilden is the greatest player in the world and there is no reason to believe that he will not continue his reign for several years. He is big and while not overly rugged, he has great stamina and the fortunate ability to recuperate quickly.

Tilden, in this respect is very much like Jack Dempsey, the world champion heavyweight. Dempsey has more ability to come back quickly than any fighter in the ring. One minute rest between rounds does as much for him as ten minutes would do for another fighter. Tilden has the same powers of recuperation. After the hardest three sets, Tilden can get a shower and a rubdown and come back perfectly refreshed and invigorated in ten minutes.

Like all masters, Tilden has made a study of his game. In this respect he is also like Dempsey. He looks for his weakness and once discovered, he works entirely to overcome that weakness. Dempsey, in training, for a fight, does not like to look good before the crowd. He tries to perfect his weak points and naturally, while he is doing that, he does not look so good.

SUNDAY IS PROMOTION DAY -- THE MAIN ST. CHRISTIAN CHURCH

BIBLE SCHOOL 9:30 A. M. Norman Crum, Supt.

Short Illustrated Sermon 10:30 By The Pastor and Presentation of Bibles and Diplomas

Society

The regular meeting of the Tri Kappa sorority will be held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. L. M. Clark, 631 North Main street, with her daughter, Mrs. Charley Offutt as the hostess.

The Ladies Aid Society of the St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Grant Gregg, 214 East Seventh street. The assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Will Brann and Mrs. Sallie Craig.

Owing to the sickness of the hostess, the Young Ladies Mission Circle of the Main Street Christian church will not meet Monday evening, as scheduled, but will be postponed until Monday evening, October 8.

Mrs. W. A. Norris was hostess to the members of the Happy-Go-Lucky Club Thursday, when she entertained the members with a one o'clock luncheon at her home in West Seventh street. Fall flowers predominated in the decorations for the luncheon table. The guests enjoyed the afternoon socially with needlework.

Several of the pupils of the local high school formed a party Friday and attended the Indiana High School Editorial Association meeting held in Franklin yesterday and today. Those who attended were Margaret Giffin, who has been elected editor-in-chief of the Hothead for this year; William Blackledge, business manager of the Annual; Jean Herkless, Lillian Wilkinson and Dean Walker, history teacher, and a sponsor of the Senior class. They will return to this city this evening.

The members of the Delphian Society held a round table discussion Friday afternoon in the Elks Club room and discussed the second introductory chapter to the year book and some business matters that came before the meeting. The next of the society will be held in two weeks and it will be one of the regular meetings.

The Missionary society of the Christian church of Glenwood, will hold Guest Day Monday at the church, and all of the ladies of the vicinity are cordially invited to attend. A pitch-in dinner will be served at noon, and a program will be given in the afternoon.

Miss Louise Innis will conduct the program at the Epworth League meeting to be held at St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church Sunday evening. An interesting program has been prepared, including special music and speaking, and all the members of the League are urged to attend. Miss Helen Jaehne will provide special music. This marks the opening meeting for the year, the league having had no meeting during the summer months.

Over two hundred attended the banquet and initiation given by the Martha Poe chapter, No. 143, O. E. S., Friday evening, at the Masonic Temple, honoring several of the grand officers of the lodge. The banquet tables were prettily adorned for the occasion with bouquets of fall flowers, and the repast was served in two courses. The honored guests were the past grand patron, Earl Payne; grand matron, Mrs. May Reeves of Princeton, Ind.; Associate grand matron, Mrs. Alice Kennedy, of Liberty; grand ada, Mrs. Ruth Carmichael of this city; and worthy matron, Mrs. Hall, of Connersville.

Following the serving of the banquet, six candidates were given the degree work and talks were given by the grand officers. The local lodge presented the grand matron with a silver spoon, as a gift from the members. During the grand officer's visit in this city, they were entertained at the home of Mrs. Carmichael and Mrs. Vera Bobout.

Petitions Seek Investigation Of Lawton, Okla., Whipping

Oklahoma City, Okla. Sept. 20.—Petitions asking Governor J. C. Walton to order a military investigation into the whipping of the Rev. T. J. Irwin, Presbyterian pastor of Lawton, were presented to the executive today by residents of Comanche county.

The petition said that "hooded and masked mobs slugged, gagged, stripped and beat" Rev. Irwin and left him by the roadside, when he was thought dead.

The Rev. Mr. Irwin attracted national attention when he preached the funeral service of Jake Hamon, Oklahoma political leader, slain by Clara Smith.

The wartime premier, accompanied by Mrs. Lloyd George and their daughter, Meghan left for Southampton, whence they were to sail later in the day for New York aboard the Mauretania.

Dressed in a new suit of blue serge, a light greyish helectrope overcoat and a gray fedora hat, his face ruddy and grinning like a school boy off for the holidays, the diminutive statesman was in high spirits.

He made a brief speech, ending: "Look out for the old country while I'm away."

Cincinnati Cop Says He Owns The Woolworth and Other Skyscrapers

New York, Sept. 20.—Warren Edwards, Cincinnati policeman, is still bent on becoming the world's richest landlord. According to his latest calculation, he hopes to be in possession of a large slice of lower Manhattan by 1948.

This slice comprises 160 acres. Experts grow dizzy when they try to figure its value. After they reach $1,000,000,000 they run out of zeros, for a few of the buildings in this area are:

	Stories
Woolworth	55
Singer	41
City Investing	33
Whitehall	32
Adams Express	32
American Express	32
A. T. & T.	28
Hudson Terminal	22

The assessed valuation of these few buildings is more than $90,000,000 and that is just a percentage of their actual value!

"It's going to be a hard fight," says Edwards, "to get back this property, but it's going to be a fight to a finish with a policeman against the wealthy New Yorkers."

Patrolman Edwards and a group of optimistic relatives argue like this:

"Back in the old days when George III was king of England, and Broadway wasn't even a pasture, one Robert Edwards acquitted himself with glory in the Indian Wars. As a reward, the king gave him a grant of 160 acres. Young Edwards went to work, cleared away the trees, and began a real estate boom in Manhattan. What once was the farm of Robert Edwards became the financial district of New York. The 160 acres extend from the battery to Park Row, and from Broadway to the Hudson river."

Policeman Edwards says he is a direct descendant of the old Indian fighter. One day he got to thinking about his worthy ancestor, and his property. He had the records searched, and then went to see a lawyer.

WARREN EDWARDS

Attorney Geismar, of Cincinnati, is now handling the case for Edwards and the other relatives. His clients claim that their lucky predecessor got his land grant in 1750, leased it for a period of 99 years, at the expiration of which time the lease was renewed for another 99-year period.

And Edwards and his kin are now trying to prove this second lease expires in 1948 and that they should have the property then.

But while he's waiting, Edwards still sticks to his job as cop. "One can never tell how such things turn out," he says. "It's best to play safe."

MILITIAMEN ON DUTY

Spruce Pine, N. C., Sept., 20.—Militia men were on duty here today to safeguard negroes following the deportation of 200 blacks by enraged citizens. The guardsmen were ordered out by Governor Morrison at Raleigh when he was advised that a mob of citizens seeking a negro who attacked an aged white woman, had stormed the state road construction camps and forced negroes to leave with a warning never to return to this section.

Short Jackets

Caracul cloth is used in the smart short jackets that have held the center of interest since last spring. These same jackets are made of brocade fabrics chosen to contrast with the dress worn under them—making a sort of three-piece suit.

Service

Our service is a regular meat market at your door where you can select just what you want and don't have to depend on some one else to choose for you. We carry a choice line of Fresh and Cured Meats, and also Fresh Bread, served to you in a modern and sanitary way. You can have service of afternoons and evenings and on Sunday mornings at the market located at 910 North Perkins street, at rear of residence. Week day mornings the truck calls at your door. Special attention given to evening orders.
